CEO's Message

The second quarter of 2026 reflects a continued progression in TEGAS's role in supporting Sarawak's digital and economic development. Building on the foundations established earlier in the year, our focus is increasingly centred on strengthening pathways that connect people, capabilities and ideas to meaningful opportunities. Guided by the Post-COVID-19 Development Strategy 2030 (PCDS 2030), we are strengthening the links between talent development, innovation and entrepreneurship to support greater participation in Sarawak's digital economy.

Our work with talent is becoming more closely connected to real opportunities. Across education, STEM, TVET and career development, we are helping young people, students and job seekers gain clearer understanding of the pathways available to them. At the same time, we continue to strengthen practical capabilities, from technical and problem-solving skills to communication, leadership and critical thinking, so individuals are better equipped to apply their knowledge in real-world settings.

For entrepreneurs and startups, our focus is extending beyond participation towards progression. We are helping founders strengthen business capabilities, improve financial and investment readiness, access mentorship, refine their models and connect with wider markets and networks. This strengthens the pathways through which local ideas can develop into viable ventures with greater potential to grow.

Our reach across Sarawak is also expanding. Through our Digital Innovation Hubs, community engagements and partnerships, we continue to bring knowledge, capabilities and opportunities closer to more communities. These efforts are strengthened by collaboration across government, academia, industry and the wider ecosystem.

These achievements are made possible through the continued guidance of our Chairman, the Honourable Datuk Haji Len Talif Salleh, and the Board of Trustees, alongside the support of our partners and communities.

As we move forward, TEGAS will continue to connect people, ideas and opportunities, strengthening the capabilities needed to advance human capital transformation, innovation and entrepreneurship in support of Sarawak's digital economy and the aspirations of PCDS 2030.
